SOUNDASAURUS BINGO FLASHCARDS

These cards are an ideal introduction to Soundasaurus, for parents and teachers to use either as bingo games or to cut up into individual flashcards to help children memorise the icons and focus sounds from the Soundasaurus index pages.

Further information and order forms including teacher support with implementing Soundasaurs can be accessed from www.where4kids.com.au or by emailing enquiries@where4kids.com.au

EDUCATION CONSULTING

Parents, would you like to be more involved with assisting your child with school work if you knew how?

Your child's primary school years is the key learning period for building the foundation skills needed for coping with secondary education.

Many parents are aware of this but don't realise how they can help their children learn, progress and reach their full potential – and it's so easy to do!

IT'S ALL ABOUT THE FUNDAMENTALS.

where4kids Education Consulting offers seminars, workshops & individual consultations to parents of children aged 4 to 12 years of age, as well as working directly with children and teachers.

where4kids aims to strengthen the link between home and school by:

- supporting the school curriculum at home
- suggesting appropriate resources for children to use to enhance learning
- helping to make learning FUN for children and their parents

SOUNDASAURUS

'How can you look up a word in the dictionary if you don't know how to spell it?'

Soundasaurus is a spelling reference book written by Vivienne Gyopar to help children find and spell words.

Soundasaurus uses sounds rather than letters to help students find words as they learn how to spell. It relies on a sound based index to locate words and uses colour to emphasise spelling patterns for different sounds.

Soundasaurus is a word finder as well as a word bank for recording personal spelling words.
